New Interprofessional Professionalism Assessment Tool

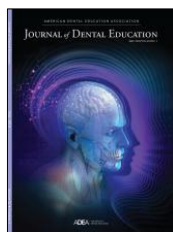

- “The intersection of professionalism and interprofessional care: development and initial testing of the interprofessional professionalism assessment (IPA)”
 - Abstract available online
- “The Interprofessional Professionalism Assessment (IPA) measures observable behaviors of health care professionals-in-training that demonstrate professionalism and collaboration when working with other health care providers in the context of people-centered care.”

New Self-Assessed Collaboration Skills (SACS) Instrument

- “Student Perceptions of Collaboration Skills in an Interprofessional Context: Development and Initial Validation of the Self-Assessed Collaboration Skills Instrument”
 - Co-authored by our own Dr. Kathrin Eliot, who now teaches with our Department of Nutritional Sciences
 - Available online at Sage Journals
- “The SACS can be implemented in any setting for assessing collaboration in clinical and nonclinical contexts.”

Recommended Article

- “Developing Interprofessional Education at One U.S. Dental School: Establishing a Baseline and Moving Forward.”
 - Available online at ADEA.
- “. . . this change in attitude suggests the new focus on IPE was already having an effect on students.”
