Highlights

All Professions Day

Thank you to all who made this event a great success!

- Held on 9/7/18 at the Nicholson Tower Conference Center, this event hosted over 900 students and was facilitated by over 60 faculty from across campus.
- Activities focused on the IPEC Core Competencies of Team Communication and Roles & Responsibilities.
- A “Team Challenge” is now available for teams to address issues related to The Case of Irene Eagan. Challenge details are posted on their D2L page.
- APD2 is scheduled for March 1, 2019.

2018 IEPA Outstanding Leader of the Year Award

- Dr. Dale Bratzler has been selected as the 2018 IEPA Outstanding Leader of the Year.
- Announcement of this award was made at All Professions Day on 9/7/18.

A few comments from the nomination:

“The students, faculty, patients and clinicians are lucky to have Dr. Dale Bratzler as a professor, colleague, physician and leader on the OUHSC campus. Dr Bratzler’s interest in improving public health and public health education has been instrumental in helping all professions on the campus engage in interprofessional experiences and opportunities in order to provide better patient care. As one of the original core faculty charge with researching, designing and implementing interprofessional activities across a campus of 3,500 students, Dr. Bratzler has devoted countless hours to planning and serving as a role model to faculty and students as they provide interprofessional services to uninsured patients at a charitable clinic in Oklahoma City. Dr. Bratzler has also been instrumental in contributing to and publishing research about the exciting interprofessional activities taking place across campus. As an educator and a physician, he is well versed in the importance of interprofessional collaboration. With his leadership, OUHSC will be a leader in providing interprofessional education and practice.”

Noteworthy Speaker on 9/18/2018

- The Donald W. Reynolds Center of Geriatric Nursing Excellence hosts Dr. Marie Bernard, Deputy Director, National Institute of Aging at the National Institutes of Health (NIH).
- “Dr. Bernard will engage the interdisciplinary audience in conversation as we consider interventions and strategies to recruit and retain populations of interest into research studies.”
- Sept. 18, 2018, with sessions at 9:30 am and 12:00 pm
